Summary of Site Visits & Correspondence

Taco Bell: On May 30, 2017, we talked with a representative from Arcadia Pumping, who handles the trap cleanings for the Taco Bell franchises. He indicated that the trap cleaning had been delayed in order to group all the local stores into one cleaning run and that the work had been completed on May 24th. They now have our contact information and will submit the cleaning documentation directly to us after each cleaning.

Gentleman Jacks: We called Gentleman Jacks on May 31, 2017 to get a status update on their trap cleaning. The responsible party was not on-site and did not get back to us before this report was prepared. We will stop by the site in early June and get a status update.

Summary of Site Visits & Correspondence:

Benchwarmers: We tried calling the owner of Benchwarmers on several occasions and stopped by on May 31 to talk to him personally. Each time we were told that he was not in and the bartender would have him call us. We will put together a letter for him and personally drop it off in June. If that does not bring a response, we will be more aggressive in trying to track down the owner.

1000 Islands: In May, 1000 Islands had indicated that they were looking for a contractor to do their cleaning. We did not receive any confirmation that the work has been done and will conduct a site visit to check on their progress.

Orange Chicken Hut: On May 31, 2017, we stopped by the Orange Chicken Hut and found the door locked and a for lease sign in the window. We will monitor the site to see if anything changes.
